J. W. Gresham Appointed Magistrate

Mr. Burrell, who for the past year or so has been acting as stipendiary police magistrate in the Macleod and Lethbridge districts, is being transferred to another field, and Mr. J. W. Gresham, of Blairmore, has received the appointment of police magistrate for the Macleod to Coleman district.

If The Enterprise had been published daily instead of weekly for the past two months we could not have found space for even a synopsis of opinions expressed at street corners, pool halls and hotel lobbies regarding the "misdoings" of the 1920 town council and school board; but as usual the would-be fault finders had not the principle to attend the annual ratepayers' meeting on Monday night to state their cases.

When the meeting was called to order on Monday night it was even impossible to find a ratepayer, apart from the council, who could act as chairman of the meeting.

Reports from the auditors, deputy-mayor and chairman of the various committees were received, and satisfaction was expressed at the return of the year's work.

A synopsis of the auditors' report for the ten months ended October the 31st will appear in our next issue.

"Ireland" is today about the hottest subject for a lecture.

An Edmonton alderman claims that jewelry, autos, pleasure gasoline, bank accounts and other needless luxuries should be taxed rather than unproducing lands in a municipality.

O'Neill purchased something at the bazaar the other night which makes it necessary for him to repair to his room of rest about three hours earlier than customary. He thought he was purchasing a laundry bag, but finds now it is a piece of feminine wearing apparel.

John Doughty, who was wanted for the kidnapping of Ambrose Small, of Toronto, and the alleged theft of $100,000 in bonds, was arrested in Oregon City, where he has been engaged in a paper mill. Doughty acknowledged the taking of the bonds, but swears that he knows nothing of the disappearance of Mr. Small, who received a cheque the day before his disappearance for $1,000,000.

At the last regular meeting of the local town council the revision of the waterworks tariff was being considered. The rate on the old printed tariff for dairies was $2.00 and when the question was asked by Councillor Gillis as to whether it should stand at that, Councillor Beebe very aptly replied: "H—no. Raise it to $20 and we may get better milk!" Another—when Councillor Gillis suggested that churches should not be charged for water, "Cap" remarked: "Shure, why not? They took our drink away from us; let's soak 'em for theirs."

Love of The Wild

She turned toward the house and he turned and walked beside her.

"You can't help my seeing you, you can't help my loving you, you can't help my winning you," he whispered fiercely.

She smiled and faced him.

"You will make me hate you," she said quietly, "please go away."

They were in the shadow of the milk-house and the building hid them from the others.

"I ask you to marry me, will you?" she asked.

He caught his breath.

"I come of good family. I will take you to a big city. I will give you a fine home," he urged.

The girl recoiled from him.

He reached out for her, but she sprang aside, and bracing her feet, she struck out with all her young strength.

She was no weak girl, ready in an artificial atmosphere. She was a woman of the Wild, strong and supple and courageous. It never occurred to her to call out. She obeyed the law she knew; she struck out.

"Simpson caught the force of her blow on his face and, already unsteady from the effects of drink, he staggered back with his arms outstretched, and she stepped forward and struck him.

He struggled up, sobbed materially by surprise and pain.

She stood before him tall and straight, her eyes blazing, her face set like marble, her fine nostrils dilated.

"Why did you do it?" he asked.

"What else could I do?" she answered.

She pulled down a branch of a maple and leaned her head against it.

The rough bark caressed her hot cheek and the sweet scent of balsam entered her soul and soothed her.

"Why did you not call out or scream like other girls would have done?"

"She lifted her head and looked at him with compassion almost."

His eyes fell.

"I understand," he murmured.

From the new raised structure came renewed cheering.

"If they knew it, Boy knew," she commented, then checked herself.

He started, and the perspiration broke out on his forehead.

"That would mean hanging for him," he laughed unceasingly.

"That's why I didn't call out like other girls would have done," she returned quietly.

His hands clenched and the blood mounted to his cheeks.

"Then I count for nothing," he said bitterly.

"I can't understand why you will take risks," she said, "but I have utterance."

"The folks of the woods have learned a lot from the wild things here. Nothing in all this wild woods ever goes where it's dangerous to go, if they know it. I had better go back to the clearing," he said.

"Boy McEwen, I advise you to do that in those very words," he sneered.

"But listen, I'm neither a fool nor a coward. I have made up my mind to have you, Gloss, and have you I will remember that."

He turned away into the timber.

Gloss entered the house and lit the candles. Twilight had swept down, a twilight fresh with wood-scented dews and fragrant with smoke of the clearing-fires. On the floor beside the fireplace sprawled the form of Dait Davis. He was fast asleep, and Pepper, the coon, lay coiled up close beside him. One of the lady's arms encircled the pet and the little animal's pointed nose was hidden among the long golden curls. Gloss bent and stroked those curls softly and something warm and wet splashed down and awoke the Nature child.

He scrambled up, his great eyes blinking at the light; then, bending, the boy raised Pepper and placed him in Dait's arms.

She sat down on a stool before the fire and gathered the little bush-children close to her. The raccoon snuggled her red cheeks and nosed her soft throat caressingly, and Dait, clinging to her hands, poured forth the story of his day's life.

The girl listened, now and then smiling, understanding, as she did so well those little pictures that the dait child was painting for her. She saw the gray tangle of marsh with the great dead elm lying across it; saw the ragged home of the hawk and the tall elm to the right; saw the hawked eagle, sat poised and watchful.

When at last, happy voices were heard, he came to the path, the rose with all the old-time gladness as in her heart. No new and strange shadow could linger for long where the joy-songs of many glad days could be brought to life by memory.

And hugging the tiny dait boy close to her, she stepped forward.

"What could I do without you, Dait?"

"Well, I do declare," cried Mrs. Deculte, as she came panting in, "if here she isn't, right here, and that blessed boy Dait with her, too. Gimmie!"

"Bless her," exclaimed the widow, "to think that we've been worried here where she has slipped off to. I'll just swing the kettle on, Mrs. Deculte, so's we needn't then have any more waitin'."

"My, but I do expect they'll enjoy that outburst."

"Leave us alone for that," laughed Peeler, who had entered and was drying his face on the long towel hanging from the door.

Deculte came forward, followed by a tall, broad-shouldered man dressed in red flannel shirt and buckskins.

Here's another small and bullet-shaped, his neck thick, and his hair a light red. His heavy face was coarse and made further unattractive from the fact that he had but one eye, having had the other knocked out by an arrow in early youth while playing buffalo-hunt with his brothers.

Having opened, he relapsed into sullen silence, and was now sprawling up and down, venturing no remark and making no move until supper was announced.

Canadian War Memorial in France

Edifice As a Permanent Residence for Fifty Scholarship Students From Canada.

A complimentary project, this far into the project, brought the Hon. Philippe Roy to Canada again recently.

This embraces the erection in Paris, as a war memorial to Canadians who fell in France, of an edifice to be known as "La Maison des Etudiants Canadiens" as a permanent residence of fifty scholarship students from Canada.

Such a residence, it is claimed, apart from its sentimental interest, is a necessity for the entire success of the scheme, as the $12,000 allotted to each student barely covers the requirements.

The project has been received enthusiastically in Paris and the Government of France has donated a suitable site for the building.

An influential committee, to further its general aims, has been formed, including Marshall Foch, Ex-President Poincaré, the Minister of Education and Fine Arts, and a host of renowned literateurs and savants.

A list of auxiliary of high distinction has also been chosen.

This memorial, it is estimated, will cost $500,000 and is the most adequate kind of monument to the heroism of the sons of Canadians buried in France.

Of the sum required $60,000 has already been raised by the Canadian colony in Paris, and the remainder could, no doubt easily be collected in Canada from its wealthy men. This, however, it is thought, would deprive the project of its national character, and it is intended to secure a large number of annual subscriptions instead of a comparatively small number of large ones.

Great Britain Paying Debt.

Advices to the Montreal Gazette say that an arrangement has been completed between the British Government and Canadian banks by which the indebtedness of Great Britain, amounting to $130,000,000, will be paid off within the next year and a half in monthly installments.

For the six months, beginning November 1, which installment has already been made, the monthly payments will be $5,000,000 each, and for the next year $10,000,000 per month, thus wiping out the debt by May, 1922.

The Largest Circulation.

The top newspaper of the world, in point of circulation, is the News of the World, owned by Lord Riddell, and printed in London. It has 4,000,000 circulation over Sunday.

Land Pays for Itself in One Year

Striking Example of What Can Be Accomplished on Western Canada Farms.

The low price of good land in Western Canada is one of the chief attractions to the farmer in older settled communities such as the eastern and middle-west states where similar land costs ten times as much and very often cannot be purchased at any figure.

It has been repeatedly pointed out that the cheaper land of Alberta or Saskatchewan will produce just as heavy crops of grain as will that costing upwards of $300 an acre. An example of this has just come to hand.

Chas. Gray purchased land at Manville in Central Alberta for $38 an acre. He has just shipped his first crop to market.

At the current market price of wheat his land has yielded him at the rate of $66 an acre—almost twice what was paid for the land from the first crop.

Planes For India.

The British Government has presented to the government of India one hundred De Havilland and Avro aeroplanes. Some of the planes have been turned over to local governments and administrations, others to ruling princes and flying clubs and the remainder to former aviation officers living in India.

The Reputation of the Police Force

In the relation in which it stands to the public, a body of men, individually and collectively, which constitutes our police forces cannot afford to have the least slur cast on it. There have been of late rumors circulating which cannot be said to reflect any particular credit on those who, though they may be said to belong to the Law Enforcement of the Province, are, nevertheless, officers of the law and act under the badge of protection the law allows and carry with them the authority the law allows.
 We have had in this city the strange case of what was known as the "mystical person," who, endowed with police authority, was said to have waylaid a respectable citizen at night, to have entered a dwelling house and hand-cuffed a woman, and to have scared a Chinaman in a down town hotel, and at the same time suggested a man with a rifle from a stranger with the promise that he would get him a bottle of liquor. So far as the public is aware the individual has been spirited away by the Chief Detective of the Department to which he belonged, and there has been nothing of a public investigation into the charges alleged against him. Nor is the public made aware of how he has been dealt with or whether he is still a member of the Department.
 Men, such as the individual described, are a menace to the public, and help to degrade the estimation in which law and authority should be held. They make a farce and a travesty of law and order and their conduct reflects on what is held to be constituted law and order. The authorities who employ such men make themselves guilty of reprehensible conduct. If the occupation in which they are employed brings to its only the scoundrel, the rapscallion, and the drudge of society, then the occupation which so degrades itself, in that it is forced to employ such men, should be abolished. It is neither a police force as a whole, nor to the public, nor to the matter of the police force stationed in the city, and who are without the control of the civil authorities, is it important that they hold a good name all round, and there should be a way to prevent anything of rumors which are not credible. There is, we are aware, the human element in the policeman just as there is in other mortals. But there is to be said that the members of the police force are obliged not only to live up to a certain responsibility but to set the example to those whose wrong doings they are out to detect, and to bring to punishment. There cannot be too great care exercised in the selection of the members of the force, and if there are any members who have offended against the reputation of the force, and by so doing help to bring the force into contempt, something of a police example should be made for the encouragement of the belief that the police force is all and everything for which it is reputed to stand. If our police forces are to stand for what they represent there should be a careful selection in the men employed, and a careful weeding out of offenders arise. At any rate it is not wholesome to allow even the suspicion of rumor to float about, and public example goes a long way. The Lethbridge Herald.

Eats Fish that is Seven Years Old

An electrical process for the preservation of fish for an indefinite period, and in such a manner as to maintain all its nutritive properties is an invention of a fish merchant in Grimsby, England, that has attracted considerable attention.
 The fresh fish is apparently subjected to a process which instantly drives every particle of moisture out of it, and makes it as dry as a bone, and as hard as a rock. In this condition it is impervious to the ravages of time, yet being immersed in water for three days it becomes like fresh fish again.
 While the scheme has not yet been demonstrated in this country, the inventor has secured patents in all countries, and is apparently satisfied with the success of his invention. The value of the invention, it is suggested, lies in the fact that the great quantities of fish caught, and hitherto wasted, or thrown back into the sea because of a glut or because of no market at all, can be rapidly cured and made available for sale throughout the country at a cheap rate.
 In its dried form it seems the fish can be used to a fine degree, which, the inventor says, upon being mixed with water assumes the properties of the original fish.

A flyver that catches grasshoppers is a new discovery credited to a farmer of Thayer County, Nebraska. Grasshoppers are plentiful in this section and it is necessary to kill them off now before they can lay their eggs. He attaches to the front end of his Ford car a traplike device made on the principle of a vacuum cleaner. It takes in a 30 foot swath and will function at any speed up to forty miles an hour. He has cleaned five hundred acres of alfalfa by this device and gathered in about three-quarters of a ton of hoppers in the once over.

Ratepayers should remember that no matter who they place in office to handle municipal or school affairs, it does not relieve them, as ratepayers, of their share of responsibility. Too often a ratepayer who failed to attend a regular meeting throughout the whole year, or to otherwise manifest an interest in the affairs of the town or district, feels inclined to criticize the work done by those whom they placed in power.

More Than He Was Worth

An indication of the position of labor in the United States, the following story from Rochester, N. Y., written by a friend in High River illustrates the attitude taken by labor with respect to work and very recently. Of late we are informed a change has taken place and labor is not so autocratic as in the past: "A man applied for a position and was told to come the next morning, prepared to go to work. He naturally wanted to know how much pay he was to get and was told not to worry about that as they would pay him all he was worth. He replied, 'Oh, hell!—I'm getting more than that where I work now.'"

Newspaper jokes are usually good jokes. One of the best of them comes from Regina. An arrangement was recently come to by which the two dailies there, despite the difference of their political views, were to be published from the same building and with the same printing plant. But, as we know, the human factor very often brings well laid plans to grief. Somebody blundered and one morning the editorial page of The Post made its appearance in The Leader.

One must read between the lines and one cannot but judge for themselves the attitude of city papers towards this district. During the Bassett and Delaney affairs it seemed that the city papers could not find space or type large enough to give desired prominence to the Pass, and repeatedly referred to, or would lead one to feel that here was the source of crime and every undesirable element. Some of the people of the Pass, with intelligence enough to read between the lines, have sized up the situation for themselves and know now just how to appreciate the publicity efforts of the city dailies. Recently a scene transpired in the city of Leithbridge, more brutal in most respects than the Delaney affair in Blairmore, and instead of making reference in a big scarehead front-page article, the matter was given a two-inch space in a secluded part of the paper, and then made to appear like an ad that a portion of its readers may not notice.

The Cabinet and Parliament.

In order to arrive at a clear understanding of forms and functions of government in Canada it is first of all necessary to have a correct appreciation of the relation which the Cabinet of Ministers has to Parliament. It is a common error for people to call upon the Cabinet, or Government, as it is popularly termed, to do certain things, and take certain action which it has no power to do and which power rests exclusively with Parliament itself.

It will perhaps lead to a clearer conception of the functions of the Cabinet, or Government, if it is likened to a board of directors of a Company with Parliament as representing the whole body of shareholders. All the rights, privileges and powers of a Joint Stock Company are conferred upon the shareholders. These shareholders select from among their own number a board of directors to entrust with the management and administration of the Company's business. The directors make rules and regulations for the management of the business, choose the employees, and constitute the active directing head of the business. They make recommendations and reports to the shareholders, and so long as they enjoy the confidence and support of a majority of the shareholders they govern and direct the Company's affairs. But once the directors lose the confidence and support of the shareholders, they are replaced by others possessing that confidence and support.

It will be seen, therefore, that the directors can only exercise such powers as have been conferred upon them by the shareholders. In other words, the directors are but a committee of the shareholders. So, too, is the Cabinet merely an executive and administrative committee of Parliament, and it is restricted to the exercise of such powers as Parliament has delegated to and conferred upon it. Parliament is the Government, the Cabinet cannot do so. Hence Governments are frequently asked by individuals and delegations to do things which they cannot do because the Acts passed by Parliament do not authorize such action.

The Cabinet has the power to make regulations for the proper carrying out and administration of Acts passed by Parliament and to issue Orders-in-Council under those Acts, but it cannot vary the provisions of the Acts nor go beyond the powers conferred by the Acts. The Government, too, is restricted in the expenditure of money to the amount voted by Parliament, except in cases of emergency arising when Parliament is not in session. In such cases a special warrant of the Governor-in-Council must be issued to cover such unforeseen expenditure, and immediately upon the re-assembling of Parliament in session, such expenditure must be reported to and approved by it. If such approval is refused, the Government must resign.

In like manner, should an amount in excess of any appropriation made by Parliament be expended, a supplementary estimate must be obtained from Parliament to cover such over-expenditure. Acting as the executive and administrative committee of Parliament, the Cabinet Ministers constitute the advisers of the Crown, and the Ministers are responsible to Parliament for all such advice tendered. If the advice is bad, the Ministers, not the Crown, must suffer the consequences. Furthermore, the Crown is precluded from accepting advice from any other source. Should such advice be tendered, it is the duty of the Crown to submit it to the Prime Minister as head of the Government, and the Government, not the Crown, is responsible for its final acceptance or rejection.

What is here outlined in regard to the Dominion Government and Parliament applies in like manner to the Provincial Governments and the Legislative Assemblies.

The analogy drawn above between the board of directors of a Company and the shareholders on the one hand, and the Cabinet and Parliament on the other, is not absolutely correct, because whereas in Company Management the shareholders possess all the power, Parliament is but representative of the people who, in the last analysis, are the shareholders of Canada, and the people are, therefore, the final court of appeal in all matters of government. However, the people delegate their powers to their representatives in Parliament and, therefore, to all intents and purposes, the analogy holds good.

In the next article in this series consideration will be given to the division of authority between the Dominion and the Provinces, a division which is frequently the cause of misunderstanding leading to demands on Provincial Governments and Legislatures for action in regard to matters over which they have no control but which come within the sole jurisdiction of the Federal authority.

Eggs and Civilization

The Egg Contains the Vital Principle Of Growth of the Body.

The world has grown better since the discovery of the egg and the growth of civilization has kept pace with the growth of the egg-eating habit—two contemporaneous facts, though their exact correlation may not be capable of demonstration. But from the facts of the case we may be warranted in concluding that a still greater consumption of hens' eggs would not hinder the coming of more civilized world. Why should not the facts be correlated when the egg contains the vital principle of growth of the body and also a substance that nourishes the brain—an article of food that is responsible for both body growth and mental quickening? Why should we not eat more eggs and look for a higher civilization?—James Dryden.

For Protection of

Lake Shipping

Great Lakes Are Now to Have Wireless Compass Depots.

Wireless compass stations, similar to those which have been in successful operation on the North Atlantic coast for more than a year, are to be installed along the Great Lakes. These stations, operated by the U.S. Navy Department, enable the operators to give ships lost in a fog their positions within a narrow radius of accuracy.

Fogs on the upper lakes have claimed one freighter and 30 lives as victims this year, and the record of previous years shows a heavy toll of shipping. Success of the system on the Atlantic coast led to its recent installation on the Pacific and now, it is announced, the inland waters will be similarly protected.

Wheat Production in France

Is Running Canada's Close Second In Wheat Crop This Year.

This year's wheat crop in France, according to official figures, will compare favorably with that of Canada, and will show a heavy increase of last year. For 1920 the estimated wheat crop of the two countries are—France, 23,750,400 bushels; Canada, 20,498,000 bushels. The yield per acre in France is 19.1 bushels as compared with 16.5 bushels in Canada.

Last year's wheat crop in France was 182,488,348 bushels, the average under cultivation being 11,509,225, in comparison with this year's average of 12,135,850. In 1917 the wheat crop was only 94,361,356 bushels.

Fewer Divorces In Paris.

Divorces are decreasing in France because of the lack of homes and apartments. Before the war the monthly list of divorces attained in Paris a total of 1,200. In October there were only 945 applications, and this month the total is expected to be further reduced to 650.

They are the ideal home remedy for the baby, being guaranteed to be absolutely free from opiates or other harmful drugs. They are a gentle but thorough laxative and have proved of the greatest aid in cases of constipation, indigestion, colic, colds and simple fevers. Concerning them Mrs. Ernest Gagne, Beauneville, Quebec, writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for constipation and colic and have found them to be so useful that I would not be without them. I would strongly recommend every mother to keep a box in the house. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Alberta Cattle Winter in Okanagan.

An interesting experiment will be conducted at the Experimental Farm in the Okanagan with 50 head of young cattle, which have been brought from Calgary ranches for winter feeding and will be fitted for market by spring. In the feeding of these cattle a test will be made of the comparative value of sunflower and corn silage; half will be fed with sunflowers and the other half with corn. The relative building values of these foods will therefore be determined.

Imperial Conference Has Been Postponed

Lloyd George Says Dominions Have Requested Delay.

Premier Lloyd George stated in the British House of Commons that it was felt that public opinion in the Empire had not yet had time to give adequate consideration to the question of the re-adjustment of the constitutional relationship of the component parts of the Empire, recommended by the Imperial Conference of 1917, which would enable the constitutional conference to meet with any advantage next year. He hoped it would be possible for such a conference to be held in 1922. It was at the desire of the dominions the Prime Minister stated, that this conference had been postponed.

Health In Humor.

Possibly there are doctors with a depressing manner, but we fancy they are exceptional cases, and most people who have ever lain on a sick bed will gratefully recognize what they owe to the brightness and hope their medical attendant has brought with him. The pity is that other physicians and other patients do not learn from the doctor, the health-giving qualities of cheerfulness. Farmers and Motors

One-Third of the Automobiles in U.S. Owned by Farmers.

Seven and a half million motor cars are reckoning America, and one-third of the owners are farmers. The largest percentage of increase in automobile registration has been in the cotton-growing sections of the south. These points are revealed in "Rural Applications," an annual published by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

Following the Civil War was the day of the railroad, when vast territories were opened up with a resulting increase in prosperity. Following the World War has come a marked increase in motor trucks and passenger automobiles. 316,364 motor trucks were built during 1919, an increase of 89 per cent. over 1918.

Canada Is Land Of Promise.

The British Overseas Settlement Committee, according to advices from London, has received nearly 50,000 applications from ex-service men and women for emigration to all parts of the Empire. About one-fifth of the applicants are women, who intend to take up domestic or land work. Canada is the favorite dominion. Between 6,000 and 7,000 applicants express a preference for this country, while Australia, New Zealand and South Africa are next in order of popularity. With dependents the total involved is well over 100,000 persons. The lists for ex-service men close December 31, and applications are now pouring in at the rate of 1,000 a week.

Next morning, and I hoped the last morning, as our breakfast was tea and crumbs from an empty provision sack, I was taking my spell aloud with lines on the head of my small snow shoes to help lift the weight of snow. I suddenly looked round and found that the party had stopped. On turning and marching back to investigate, I found one of the drivers (Musquik-ik) a hard young case, with his sleigh pulled to one side and he was upslapping it. I thought for a minute, then realized it had come to a show-down, for he was going to leave his load of invaluable ammunition on the ice and no doubt the others would follow suit. This was mutiny—rank mutiny.

All the men were watching me, as I was busy tramping down a cock-pit about twelve feet square. On finishing this I took off my L'assomption Belt and capot. Then, in a loud voice, I challenged Musquik-ik in these words: "We would fight, if he was the best man the load could stay on the ice, and if I was, the load would go on intact." A deep silence followed. Musquik-ik looked me up and down, and finally turning to his sleigh he commenced re-lashing it. A cheer broke from the rest of the men and the outfit went on, leader succeeding leader, and late that evening we reached The Pas.

Seeing every load unpacked and carried in the store houses, with rats on the head of my small snow shoes, I finally went to the office. Dear old Allick M. was like a lion with her chicks. "Such a trip you have had. How did you stand it, and so on. While he talked I was loosing my moccasins and dulles (southern travellers know we wrap our feet in squares and do not use made socks). Every toe was cut and bleeding, matter had formed on the balls of both my feet, and on jerking off my wrappings a glance was enough for the Chief. He became violently sick at his stomach, and truly it was a nasty sight. I hid them from the men for the last two days.

More Sinn Fein Plots

Accused of Planning to Destroy Property in Liverpool and Manchester.

LONDON.—A conspicuous incident in the Irish debate in the House of Commons was the revelation by Sir Hanratty Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, of Sinn Fein plans to destroy property in Liverpool and Manchester—a revelation which was greeted by Joseph Devlin with the exclamation: "All that was written in Dublin Castle."

Former Premier Asquith moved a resolution expressing abhorrence of the recent Dublin assassinations and condemnation of reprisals and urging immediate steps to bring about Irish pacification. An amendment by Col. John Ward converted this motion into an expression of admiration for the courage and devotion of the crown forces in Ireland. This was adopted by 303 to 83, and the motion as thus amended was adopted by acclamation and ministerial cheers.

Complete Line To Fort McMurray.
Edmonton.—Premier Stewart has returned from a ten-day trip over the A.G. and W. Railway to Fort McMurray. He says that about $100,000 has been spent by the Government in improvements to the waterways system this fall. During the winter, 300,000 tons will be got out for repair work and by next fall it is hoped to have a regular service in operation to Fort McMurray.

McGill Secures $6,321,511.
Montreal.—The McGill University centennial endowment fund reached a grand total of $6,321,511, thus exceeding its objective by over a million and a quarter dollars. It was announced in the final statement of the amount of the subscriptions at the banquet which closed the campaign.

To Set Date for Parliament Opening.
Ottawa.—One of the matters which are likely to come before the Cabinet Council soon, it is expected, will be the setting of a date for the opening of Parliament. Ministers still speak hopefully of January 20 as the opening date, but there may be a delay of a week or so beyond that.

Paying the Price for War

Member of German Reichstag Says People Broken Down Morally.

Berlin.—Bitterness marked a debate in the Reichstag relative to the voting of appropriations to carry out provisions of the Versailles Treaty. Members of the Chamber denounced the action of the Allies in keeping such a large force of men along the Rhine and in particular assailed France for sending negro troops into Germany.

Dr. Zapf, a member of the German People's Party, said Germany's financial situation seemed hopeless. He pointed out that interest charges on the budget alone amounted to 12,500,000,000 marks, and declared the conduct of French officers and their families in the Rhineland was provoking a growing irritation.

"If Russian Soviet troops," he declared, "should appear on Germany's eastern frontier, they would find the united industrial nation of former years, but a people broken down morally."

Rudolf Drietscheid, a leader of the Moderate Independent League, said the nation's burdens were not the result of the "infamous capitulation of our enemies," but the sequel of Germany's pre-war policies.

"Germany's collapse," he continued, "was not due to the pacifists, but to the men who praised war as the fountain of youth and the bath of steel. I predict the time will come when the present treaty will be replaced by an instrument dictated by true justice. This will be when the workers of France and Germany become sufficiently powerful to put the Versailles Treaty out of commission."

Speed King Meets Death

Gaston Chevrolet In Fatal Accident At Los Angeles Speedway.

Speedway, Los Angeles.—Gaston Chevrolet, famous racing driver, and Lyall Jolla, mechanic for Eddie O'Donnell, were killed when Chevrolet's and O'Donnell's machines crashed together on the Los Angeles speedway at the east end of the grandstand near the close of the 250-mile race.

O'Donnell was so seriously injured that it was at first reported he was killed. His skull was fractured and both arms broken, and little hope was held out that he could recover.

John Bresnahan, Chevrolet's mechanic, was seriously injured. Gaston Chevrolet was the youngest of three racing brothers. He was a mechanic for two years before he demonstrated that he was a driver of merit at the 500-mile Memorial Day race at Cincinnati, where he finished third. On May 31 last, he won the Indianapolis Speedway race in the heat time in the history of that annual event.

Employment Insurance.
Ottawa.—In the coming Cabinet discussions preceding the opening of Parliament the question of unemployment insurance is likely to play a prominent part. Recommendations arising from the Washington Labor Conference of the League of Nations regarding unemployment insurance is one of the few which, according to a ruling of the Justice Department, come properly within the jurisdiction of the Dominion Parliament.

Death of Western Bank Manager.
Medicine Hat, Alta.—The death has occurred here of Edward J. F. Wiggins, former manager of the Merchants' Bank, who opened the first banking institution in Medicine Hat. Deceased, who was born in London, Ont., in 1867, leaves a widow and three children.

Tariff Inquiry Report.
Ottawa.—Stenographic evidence given before the Tariff Commission already shows 3,668 import duties are roughly about 1,100,000 words, and a large part of industrial Ontario has still to be covered. Further hearings of the commission will probably occupy a fortnight or so. The commission left for Hamilton.

Italy Will Not Interfere.
Rome.—If France and England decide to intervene in Greece, Italy must stand aloof in order to be faithful to the principle of self-determination, says an article published by the Messagero, it being stated here that the article was "evidently inspired."

Want Stringent Marriage Regulations.
Toronto.—The Toronto Liberal Women's Association has placed itself on record as emphatically in favor of more stringent regulations with regard to the issuing of marriage licenses, stipulating that a physician's certificate should be an essential condition.

Brakemen Make More Than the College Professors.

Toronto.—At a meeting of the Alumni Association of the University of Toronto, Angus McMurphy, K.C., making a plea for better salaries for professors said that railway brakemen made from $200 to $250 a month and conductors as high as $425 a month. He said that to compare these wages with the pitances received by university lecturers "would be too painful to the lecturers."

New Consul To Canada.

Montreal.—Bohuslav K. Ryznar, D.Sc., of Prague, has been named consul of the Czechoslovak Republic to Canada. The quarters of the Czechoslovak consulate will be at 338 Sherbrooke Street, West Montreal.

Must Break Reign of Terror

No Conciliation in Ireland Possible at Present Time, Says Lloyd George.

LONDON.—In a discussion of the Irish problem in the House of Commons the question of conciliation between the Irish people was raised. Premier Lloyd George, giving his opinion in the matter, declared: "I always have been convinced that no policy of conciliation is possible in Ireland until the reign of terror has been broken, for the very obvious reason that men in Ireland who would be prepared to enter into negotiations at the present time are in terror of their lives and cannot do so freely."

Answering another question, the Premier said the cabinet had come to the deliberate conclusion that it was not desirable at present to enforce martial law in Ireland. He believed it would not help even if it were applied.

Health of School Teachers.

Toronto.—Medical examination of prospective public school teachers in this city to ascertain if they are physically fit before being engaged, is recommended by the management committee of the Toronto Board of Education. At present it costs from $100,000 to $160,000 a year for occasional teachers.

Indian Who Escaped From Custody Was Rounded Up.

Winnipeg.—There is quite an old-time touch to a story given out by the Manitoba Provincial Police. Louis Houle, an Indian of the Ebb and Flow reserve, was arrested last October and sent to Dauphin jail for a series of thefts. He was to stay 18 months, but escaped Nov. 2, and went back to the reserve. The police went after him, but the Indians put up a forcible resistance and they returned without the prisoner. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police were appealed to and a detachment went off to the reserve. They succeeded in bringing Houle back, but, so far, have not told how they secured him.

The test was made under supervision of the North Dakota Agricultural College, and will be certified to the Holstein Friesian Association. The heifer is owned by Wallace Manikowski, Moorhead, N.D.

Proposed Farmers' Pool for the Marketing of Wheat

Wheat Growers of Prairie Provinces and Ontario To Be In Plan.

Calgary.—A proposed farmers' pool for the co-operative marketing of the wheat crop of Canada, was outlined to the U.F.A. secretaries' convention by J. H. Murray, assistant general manager of the United Grain Growers. Mr. Murray announced that a scheme embodying these proposals has been drawn up by a special committee of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, but that until the sanction of the members of the committee had been obtained, the actual contract would not be made public. Mr. Murray did not name the members of the special committee, but it is understood that they are H. W. Wood, president of the U.F.A.; F. W. Riddell, manager of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company; and Mr. Murray.

Provisional board to handle 1921 crop to consist of one representative each of the following organizations: U.F.A. of Alberta, Saskatchewan Grain

Washington.—The Government of the United States has informed Great Britain that it does not propose to be excluded from participation in the rights and privileges secured under mandates provided in the treaties of peace. Furthermore, it expects to be consulted regarding the terms of these mandates before they are put into force.

The position of the United States is set forth in a note by Secretary of State Colly to Earl Curzon, the British secretary of state for foreign affairs, and the specific question discussed is that of the Mesopotamian mandate. The note is dated November 20, and was made public following its delivery to the British Foreign Office early last week. It is in reply to a British note of August 9 last, which has never been made public, and which deals with the application of the principles of equality of treatment to the territories of the Near East to be placed under British mandates.

The United States note takes issue with what is described as the British position in the mandate agreements and treaties are to be considered only by states that are members of the League of Nations.

It states that the United States, as a participant in the war, and a contributor to its successful issue, cannot consider any of the associated powers, the smallest not less than itself, debarrred from discussion of any of its consequences, or from participation in the rights and privileges secured under the mandates provided in the treaties of peace.

Mr. Colly says in his note that the United States Government accepts the statement of the British Government that it has refrained from exploiting the petroleum resources of the mandated territories in question "and welcomes your pledges" that it is far from the intention of Great Britain to "establish any kind of monopoly or preferred position in its own interest."

Growers, United Farmers of Manitoba, and United Farmers of Ontario. There will be two representatives of the United Grain Growers and two of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company, making a total of eight, who will elect a ninth member as chairman.

Contract holders must sign for a term of five years, binding themselves to sell wheat only through the pool. Fifty per cent of wheat, average or about 8,500,000 acres, to be brought under the scheme. Expenses of operation to be paid from the pool. Wheat grower who signs contract and afterwards sells grain elsewhere than to the pool to pay 25 cents per bushel as liquidated damages to the pool.

In event it is discovered that contract holder is breaking contract by selling elsewhere, the pool is to be entitled to an injunction to restrain him from such action.

Phone System for Far North To Rescue World from Danger

Will Link Up the Peace River and Grande Prairie Districts.

Edmonton, Alta.—As a result of the big program of construction planned and carried out by the Provincial Government, the close of the present year will see another 6,500 miles of pole line added to the telephone system of Alberta with about 16,000 miles of new wire lines available for toll and rural service.

Norman L. Harvey, deputy minister of railways and telephones stated that the contractors will practically complete every foot of the $4,000,000 building program of the present year before the middle of January. This extension of the telephone system carries new lines into almost every section of the province, including the Peace River and Grande Prairie districts.

The peoples of Britain and the United States, he said, are specially called to try and rescue the world from the danger. He added that the influence of the United States is prized because "the it is imperial, raised above the jealousies and ambitions that vex this distracted Europe."

Generosity Of Rockefeller.

New York.—John D. Rockefeller has given away nearly half a billion dollars, his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., declared here in what he believed to be the first authentic detailed statement that has ever been made concerning his father's philanthropic gifts. The approximate total of the gifts is $475,000,000, nearly half of which has been distributed in the last five years.
